

FIG. 1

A diagram showing a three-dimensional coordinate system with three axes originating from a common point. The axes are labeled X, Y, and Z. The Z-axis is horizontal and points to the left. The Y-axis points upwards and to the right. The X-axis points downwards and to the right. Each axis ends with an arrowhead.

3/6

FIG. 3

FIG. 4

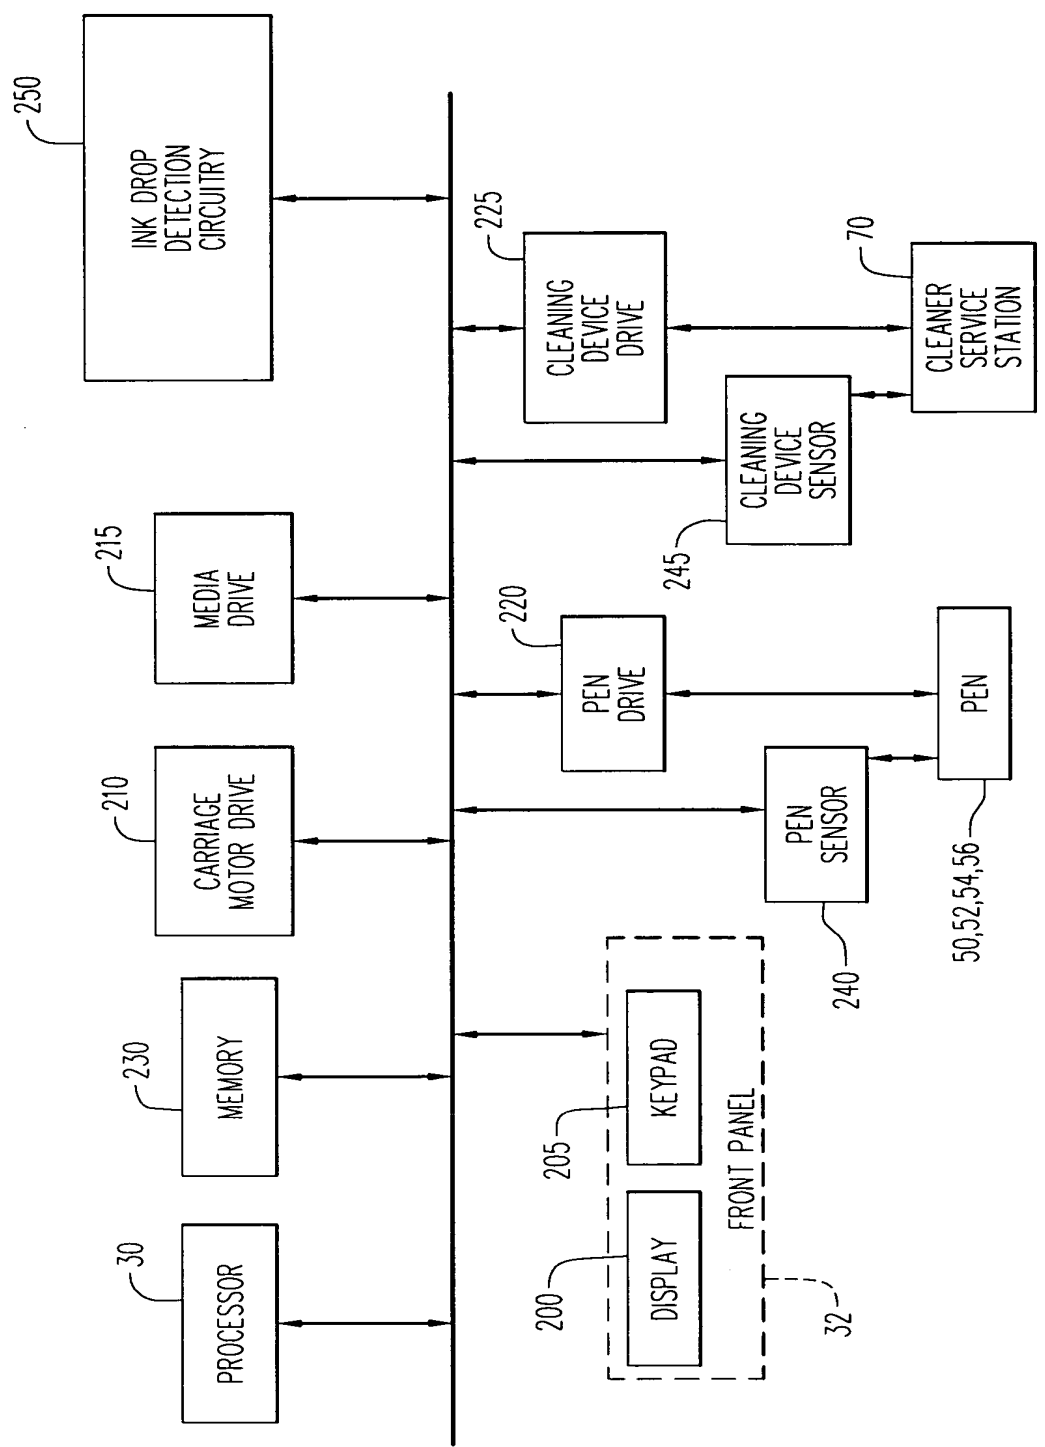

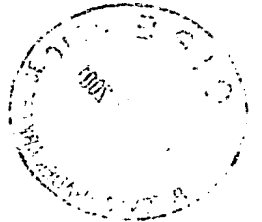

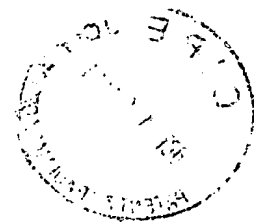

FIG. 5

5/6

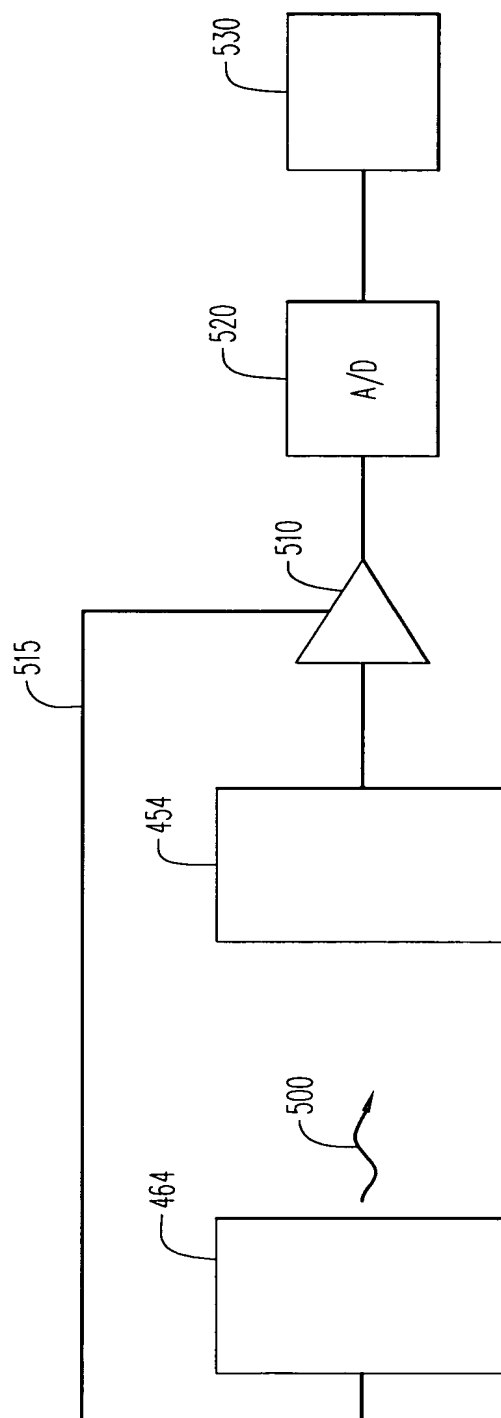

FIG. 6

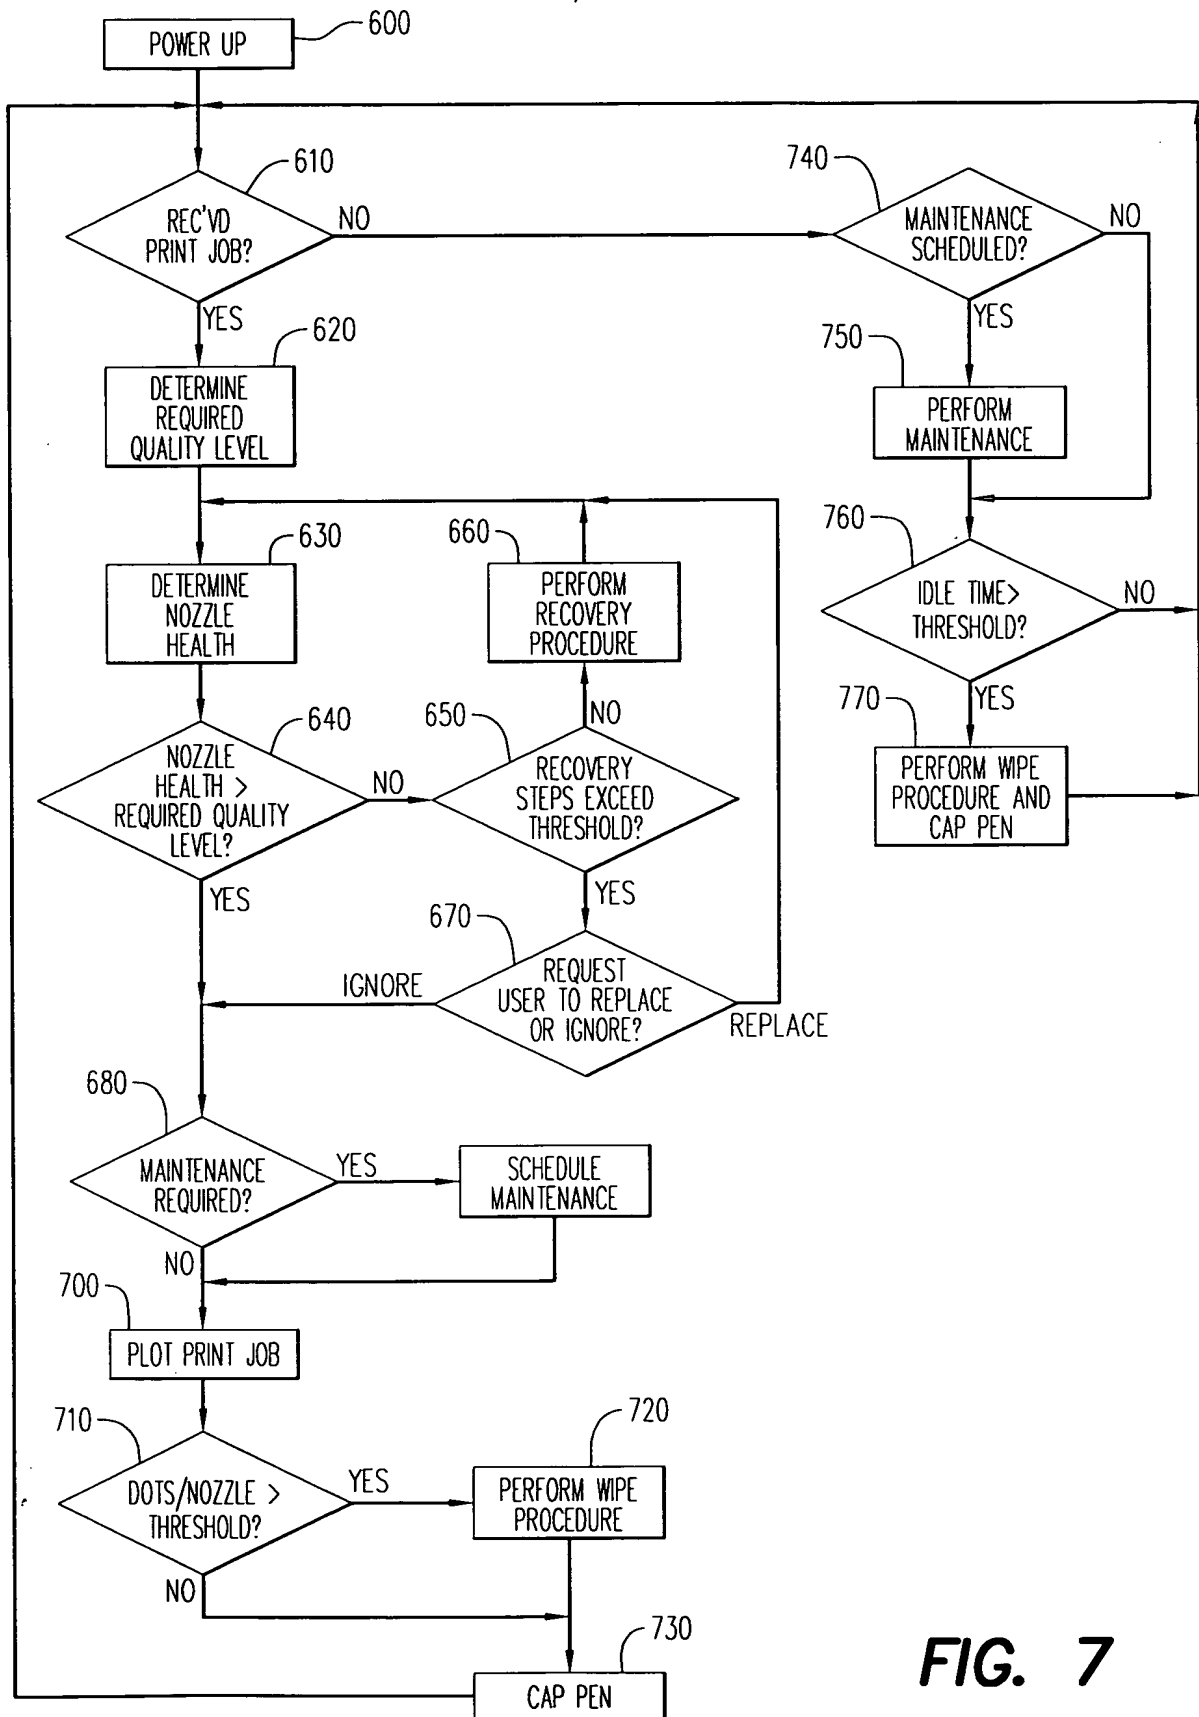

FIG. 7